This tool will search the internet to find the type of software that is running on your computer. This will show all the information that your computer has in its memory. Computer's Windows XP Home or Home Premium or Professional operating system usually only occupies 5% of the system's available memory space. If your computer has plenty of memory and you have lots of stored data on your hard drive, then there is more than enough memory to install and use Windows XP on it. Microsoft Windows and Microsoft Windows CE and applications and applications use up a lot of system resources in your computer. The more you have in your computer the more system resources are occupied. Inside the nice red diamond you can observe the RAM (Random Access Memory) and the processor. These are the two most important parts of a computer system. This is because the RAM is very volatile, it is used by applications and the processor is in charge to manage the time and flow of the applications. In this computer, the RAM is 512 mb, the processor is a dual core processor by intel and the processor
